NEW YORK, Jan. 22.-The New

Admiral Gherardi made the chief address of the evening. He said:

"The Falgish are as stubborn as we are, and they are just as proud. We have inherited these traits from them. I can assure you that Edgiand will fight, but the last people whom she wishes to fight, are ourselves.

"None of these modern ships have ever seem in a great fight and we do not know what the result will be. But there is not asy man who does not hem. Beevet that old Monroe was right. But whom are we going to fight for about as despleable and ungrateful a face as ever lived. These South American subject were about as despleable and ungrateful a face as ever lived. "They have no more use for us than you have for a robier. However, this does not affect the Monroe doctrine. We should say to Venezuela that no one shall interfere with her, not because we love her, but because she is on this side of the water. In a war with England we should overrun Canada in less than six weeks. But we have no shins to fight. We could not send a body of troops to Venezuela. If we made the attempt we would get them there about the lime the Adventist's end of the world shall come. "Today we have only a few ships, scarcely any battle ships. LONDON, Jan. 22.-G. W. Smalley, cor-

The full force of the English objection to the Venezuelan commission has never. I think been appreciated here. Americans are surprised when they are not that English recognition of the commission is impossible. They hardly understand why they should be warned by a kondon evenine paper that an American claim to determine the British boundary is one which could only be conceded after defeat in a long war, and that if such a demand was made by any other nower it would be met by hardling their ambassador his passports and mobilizing a fleet.

Such language does not clarify the visions of the Americans it simply creates irritation and resemble. The writer was said it, might have reached the American smind if he had merely asked what Americans would say if the case were reversel and if England should appoint a commission to determine the boundary of an American state.

"Justice Brewer's letter is discussed here as if it embedded a perfectly natural appeal for the friendly co-operation of England in the work of the commission. That also is the view of the administration."

Mr. Smalley suggests that in view of a sincere desire in Washington to see the full text of the British case, that Lord Salesbury publish the documents as a supplement to the London Garseite.

FIGHT IN FRANKFORT

Hunter is Now But One Vote Shy-

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 22.—The first oint ballot for United States senator resulted: Hunter, 65; Elackburn, 58; Carsie, 2; McCreary, 6; Wilson, 1; Bucklisie, 2; McCreary, 6; Wilson, 1; Buckner, 1.

Relations between the supporters of Blackburn and Hunter are more strained tonight than ever, Hunter came within one vote of election today, and his opponents are said to be contemplating fillbustering or other means for preventing a decisive result before Wilson's successor is elected. Hunter had $$ votes today, all the Republican vote except the vote of Senator Stage, who held out for Wilson and was hissed, as were all the Democratis who did not vote for Blackburn, Hunter sot the vote of Foor, the Populist today, the latter being loudly cheered Blackburn got 5$ votes, if short of election, with Wilson's place vacant and 17 short of a majority of all. McCreary got air, Carlisle 2 and Buckrer I Blackburn got the vote of Edrington, the other Populist and if he had received all the Democratic votes present be would have had 57. The absentees were Senator Oglivie (Dem.) and Representative Wilson's successor, who are counted sure by Blackburn. If Senator Stare should come to Hunter tomorrow or any time before Wilson's successor is elected, the deadlock will be broken by the election of Hunter, in any event trouble is expected.
